2021-2022

PharmaWrite®
MEDICAL COMMUNICATIONS, LLC

INTRODUCTION

Medical Education and Communication Companies (MECCs)

Medical Education and Communication Companies (MECCs) are a key part of the process involved in disseminating pharmaceutical, biopharmaceutical, and other scientific research to regulatory agencies, healthcare professionals, and the public at large. MECCs help their pharmaceutical and medical clients educate healthcare professionals about proven and emerging therapies, devices, and clinical processes that will improve patient care and outcomes. MECCs use their knowledge of regulatory guidelines, scientific literature, and the healthcare marketplace to design effective integrated medical communications plans, providing services such as regulatory and medical writing, medical education, advocacy development, literature surveillance, publication planning and tracking, speaker training and management, and event planning. These companies employ teams of professional scientific managers, medical writers, and medical editors and maintain valuable relationships with leading clinicians and researchers involved in medicine, medical research, nursing, and pharmacy.

Overview of the Fellowship Program

MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC and PharmaWrite Medical Communications, LLC are jointly offering a 1-year postdoctoral fellowship in the medical communication industry beginning July 1, 2021. The program offers an optional teaching component and the opportunity to acquire a teaching certificate through the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy (PCP), University of the Sciences in Philadelphia, PA.

Fellowship Program Goals

The primary goal of the program is to provide a foundation for a career in medical communications through training and exposure to various aspects of the industry, including educational and promotional programs and activities. In addition, the fellow has the opportunity to be appointed as Adjunct Clinical Instructor in the Department of Pharmacy Practice and Pharmacy Administration at PCP to develop his/her teaching skills through formal educational instruction to PharmD students. This educational instruction includes teaching in small group courses, delivering a didactic lecture and a continuing education (CE) program for pharmacists, and serving as a preceptor to Advanced Pharmacy Practice Experience (APPE) rotation students in medical communications.

 Follow Christopher Rosero, our 2020-2021 fellow, on Twitter (@Fellow_PWMV) for fellowship updates, event information, and deadline reminders!

Megan McEntire, PharmD, RPh, CMPPT™

Director, Scientific Communications, MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC
Director, Medical Communications Fellowship

Dr. Megan McEntire’s current role as Director of Scientific Communications enables her to interact with clients and key opinion leaders on a personal basis to facilitate dissemination of medical knowledge. Megan has experience in publication planning, developing scientific manuscripts, planning and implementing scientific development and logistics for advisory board meetings, competitive surveillance reporting, and conducting gap analyses and key opinion leader (KOL) analyses in the therapeutic areas of pain management, women’s health, bipolar disorder, rheumatoid arthritis, osteoporosis, infectious diseases, rare diseases, and oncology. As the fellowship director, she ensures that the fellows receive a well-rounded education in medical publications with as much hands-on experience as possible. She also serves as the primary preceptor for APPE PharmD students from Albany College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Rutgers University, Temple University, and the University of the Sciences in Philadelphia.

Megan graduated from East Tennessee State University, completing a Bachelor of Science in Chemistry, with a concentration in Biochemistry, and worked in the chemical industry. However, her passion was to help people in the healthcare field, so she returned to further her education at the Bill Gatton College of Pharmacy at East Tennessee State University, where she received her Doctor of Pharmacy degree in 2011.

Megan completed the 2011-2012 MedVal/PharmaWrite Medical Communications Postdoctoral Fellowship Program. She was the first fellow to obtain her teaching certificate from the University of the Sciences College of Pharmacy in Philadelphia. In 2012, she joined MedVal as an Associate Manager of Scientific Communications, and in 2013 completed her Certified Medical Publication Professional (CMPPP) certification through ISMPP. Megan is a member of the American Pharmacists Association (APhA), American Society of Health-System Pharmacists (ASHP), American Medical Writers Associations (AMWA), Industry Pharmacists Organization (IPhO), and has served on the ISMPP Membership Committee.

Louis P. Greco, PharmD, RPh, CMPPT™

President, PharmaWrite Medical Communications, LLC
Managing Director, MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC

Lou Greco is President and Co-owner of PharmaWrite Medical Communications, LLC, Princeton, NJ, as well as Managing Director and Co-owner of MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC, also in Princeton. He has nearly 20 years of experience in publications and medical communications, predominantly serving clients in the pharmaceutical, biopharmaceutical, and medical device industries. Lou’s strengths lie in the development and implementation of strategic communication platforms and plans. His work has spanned numerous therapeutic areas, with a focus over the past 5 years on rare diseases, oncology, seizure disorders, and pain management.

Lou began his career in medical communications as a Director of Speakers Bureau Services and soon transitioned into publication strategy and management. As a senior executive for 15 years and now co-owner of PharmaWrite and MedVal, his responsibilities also include business development, contracting, proposal development, budget tracking, and recruitment of highly capable medical writers and director-level account leads.

Lou earned his Doctorate of Pharmacy from the Rutgers University College of Pharmacy and also served as the Director of Continuing Education at the College of Pharmacy prior to starting his career in medical communications.

Lou is a member of the International Society of Medical Publication Professionals (ISMPP), having served as faculty at the Annual Meeting and has served on the ISMPP Membership Committee.

Rosie J. Lynch, RPh, CMPPT™

President, MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC
Managing Director, PharmaWrite Medical Communications, LLC

As President of MedVal and Managing Director of PharmaWrite, Rosie Lynch is in charge of expanding strategic vision, developing new business initiatives, maintaining thought leader relationships, and managing strategic alliances with other organizations and associations. Rosie has over 30 years of medical communications experience developing educational, strategic, and tactical initiatives for the pharmaceutical, biopharmaceutical, and medical device industries. She has held executive-level positions for 18 of those years and has overseen the development and execution of a wide variety of medical communications programs across all phases of brand lifecycles. Rosie’s marketing and business development expertise, scientific background, and managerial skills have enabled her to design and implement programs with proven return on investment. She is responsible for starting the pharmacy internship program at Rutgers University College of Pharmacy.

Rosie earned her Bachelor of Science degree at Rutgers University College of Pharmacy and is licensed to practice pharmacy in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. She is a longtime member of the Hematology/Oncology Pharmacists Association (HOPA). She is CMPPP-certified through ISMPP and has recently completed a 3-year term as Treasurer on the Board of Trustees for ISMPP.

Rosie began her career at Schering Plough in Drug Information, where she handled all healthcare-related inquiries and provided sales force training. Thereafter, she moved into respiratory and allergy professional services and later worked in marketing development at Schering Plough, where she was involved in the highly successful launch of Claritin®.

Brian Atkinson, PhD, CMPPT™

Scientific Director, MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC

Dr. Brian Atkinson has over 20 years of experience as a researcher and medical writer. Prior to joining MedVal, Brian was the Lead Medical Writer for the Immunoscience and CNS franchises at Bristol-Myers Squibb, where he worked on priority presentations and publications in transplant immunosuppression (Nulogix®), rheumatoid arthritis (Orencia®), psoriatic arthritis (clazakizumab), and acute migraine therapy (CGRP antagonist). Brian’s work as the principal writer for Nulogix resulted in 12 published manuscripts and 19 oral presentations at scientific and medical congresses. Brian also led an initiative that provided training in Good Publication Practices to over 200 staff members from over 30 overseas markets.

Prior to working at Bristol-Myers Squibb, Brian worked for 8 years as a senior medical writer and medical director at PharmaWrite, where he developed over 25 priority presentations and publications in preparation for the launch of Topamax® in migraine prevention. In addition, Brian wrote or oversaw publication development in neuropathic pain (Ultracet®, Topamax) and psychiatric disorders, such as binge eating and bulimia nervosa (Topamax), and participated in advisory boards for addiction treatment (Prometa™). Brian also worked as the lead writer on a series of standalone European continuing medical education conferences that annually drew over 300 rheumatologists and dermatologists to state-of-the-art presentations on rheumatoid arthritis, ankylosing spondylitis, and psoriatic arthritis.

Brian received his Doctorate in Pharmacology from Emory University in Atlanta, GA, where he focused on the pharmacology and regulation of adrenergic receptors. His postdoctoral fellowship at the National Institutes of Health related to the pharmacology and regulation of dopamine receptor subtypes.

Robert Gilbert, STL, CMPPT™

Director, Scientific Communications, PharmaWrite Medical Communications, LLC

Robert Gilbert, Director of Scientific Communications at PharmaWrite, has an uncommon commitment to quality and client satisfaction. His 20 years of experience with PharmaWrite have included the management of 20 publication plans for 27 products (7 launches; 5 product line extensions) across 14 pharmaceutical companies. This work has included successful publications in top-tier journals, such as JAMA, The Lancet, and Annals of Internal Medicine.

Robert has also managed over 50 advisory board, speaker training, and regional consultant meetings. In addition, he has managed multidisciplinary summits with specialists, primary care physicians, nurses, nurse practitioners/physician assistants, claims processing/office managers, patients, and managed care organization representatives, as well as numerous CE symposia, including a series of 10 multidisciplinary CE meetings for 2,000 physicians, nurses, and pharmacists. Robert has also written regulatory reports submitted to the US Food and Drug Administration and facilitated workshops on medical writing for clinical investigators and creating presentations for medical liaisons. He has also directed the creation of clinical and caregiver websites for patient advocacy organizations and provided assistance with thought leader identification, with a special focus on identifying specialist “up & comers” through analysis of recent abstract submissions. Robert has also overseen the creation of medical response letters, AMCP Dossiers, formulary kits, and international scientific product monographs for launch products and has helped develop speakers bureau websites and facilitated live and archived speaker training webcasts. Since joining the PharmaWrite team, Rob has worked in the areas of analgesia (adult and pediatric) for both acute and chronic conditions (eg, low back pain, osteoarthritis, fibromyalgia, neuropathic pain, sports injuries), drug abuse, epilepsy, anti-infectives, hypophosphatasia, and metabolic disorders. He is a CMPPP-certified and is a member of ISMPP, the International Publication Planning Association (TIPPA), and an associate member of the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE).

Dorothy McCoy, PharmD, BCPS-AQ ID

Medical Writer, MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC

Dr. Dorothy McCoy’s medical writing experience includes the development of abstracts, original research manuscripts, drug therapy reviews, posters, slide presentations, educational programs, drug monographs, policies and procedures, clinical guidelines, scientific platforms and a book chapter. Her therapeutic areas of experience include epilepsy, glomerular diseases, thrombocytopenia of chronic liver disease, neurodegeneration with brain iron accumulation disorder, and infectious diseases, with a focus on C. difficile, invasive fungal infections, infections in immunocompromised hosts, gram-negative resistance, and antimicrobial stewardship.

Prior to joining PharmaWrite/MedVal, Dorothy was an Infectious Diseases/Antimicrobial Stewardship Clinical Pharmacist for over 10 years, during part of which she held an academic appointment as a Clinical Associate Professor at the Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy at Rutgers University in Piscataway, NJ. Her clinical practice sites included Hackensack University Medical Center in Hackensack, NJ and St. Joseph’s Health in Paterson, NJ, where she was involved in infectious diseases clinical practice, antimicrobial stewardship, drug information services, research, scholarly activities, writing, and teaching activities for clinicians, pharmacy residents, and pharmacy students.

Dorothy received her PharmD from the Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy at Rutgers University. She completed her PGY1 Pharmacy Practice Residency at Hackensack University Medical Center in Hackensack, NJ and her PGY2 Infectious Diseases Residency at the University of Michigan Health System in Ann Arbor, MI. She also earned certification from the Board of Pharmacy Specialties as a Board Certified Infectious Diseases Pharmacist. Dorothy is a member of the Society of Infectious Diseases Pharmacists (SIDP), American Society of Health-System Pharmacists (ASHP), and the New Jersey Society of Health-System Pharmacists (NJSHP). She has been recognized with the 2011 ASHP Research and Education Foundation Pharmacy Residency Excellence New Preceptor Award and the 2017 NJSHP Preceptor of the Year Award.

Jennifer Kent, PhD, CMPPT™

Scientific Director/Senior Medical Writer, MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC

Dr. Jennifer Kent partners with clients to provide strategic insight and execution of a variety of projects, including publication plans, publication development, and clinical study documents, as well as other regulatory submissions in the areas of hematology/oncology, oncology supportive care, gastrointestinal disorders, and men’s health. Jennifer also works with clients, physicians, and other healthcare professionals to manage and develop content for advisory boards targeted to different audiences, including leading oncologists, oncology nurses, and pharmacy directors, covering a variety of therapeutic areas such as breast cancer, management of chemotherapy-induced nausea and vomiting, glioblastoma, management of mucositis, multiple myeloma, non-small cell lung cancer, prostate cancer, and management of venous thromboembolism.

Jennifer has experience in researching and creating primary and secondary peer-reviewed articles; abstracts, posters, slide presentations, and various other written materials such as retrospective analyses, registry reports, meeting summaries, internal white papers, competitive surveillance reports, and educational programs in manuscript or slide format. Areas in which she has written include management of type 2 diabetes, sleep research, erectile dysfunction, tissue disorders (such as Peyronie’s disease and Dupuytren’s contracture), and hematology/oncology—specifically, breast cancer, myelodysplastic syndrome, acute myeloid leukemia, management of chemotherapy-induced nausea and vomiting, metastatic liver cancer, prostate cancer, and management of venous thromboembolism.

Prior to joining MedVal, Jennifer was a postdoctoral fellow with Dr. Nigel Fraser at the University of Pennsylvania in the Department of Microbiology. While in Dr. Fraser’s laboratory, Jennifer studied the regulation of gene expression of herpes simplex virus type 1 during the lytic and latent phases of infection. Several abstracts and articles from this research were presented at local and international virology meetings and were published in peer-reviewed journals, such as the Journal of Virology and the Journal of Neurovirology.

Jennifer earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in Biology from Wittenberg University. She went on to receive her PhD from the University of Delaware, where her dissertation involved research on the impact of recombinant vaccines against an avian oncogenic herpesvirus.

Meghan Sullivan, PhD, CMPPT™

Senior Medical Writer, MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC

Dr. Meghan Sullivan received her PhD from The University of Chicago’s committee on Molecular Pathology and Molecular Medicine, where her research focused on the production of cytokines in human pulmonary tissue and their contribution to asthma pathogenesis. While at The University of Chicago, Meghan also studied the efficacy of the yearly influenza vaccine and its impact on the B-cell repertoire. Her extensive research in the field of human immunology makes her uniquely suited to working in the rapidly growing field of immunotherapeutics.

Since graduating, Meghan has been involved in numerous publications in the fields of oncology (eg, glioblastoma, head and neck cancer, and non-small cell lung cancer), pain management, diabetes, chronic kidney disease, cardiology, and rheumatology. She has extensive experience with immuno-oncologic agents, including monoclonal antibodies and small molecule inhibitors. She is a member of ISMPP and is CMPPP-certified. Her expertise includes the development of congress abstracts, posters, and presentations as well as original articles, reviews, gap analyses, and lexicons.

MENTORING TEAM

Sarah Mizne, PharmD, RPh, CMPPT™
Senior Medical Writer, MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC

As a medical writer, Dr. Sarah Mizne works closely with clients and authors to develop scientific publications, including original research articles, supplements, and abstracts; posters and slide decks for meeting presentations; and educational training materials in a variety of formats. She has additional experience in publication planning, scientific platform development, and competitive surveillance reporting. Sarah has also contributed content and delivered executive summaries for advisory boards targeting oncology pharmacists and pharmacy directors at the National Comprehensive Cancer Network and National Cancer Institute.

Sarah has extensive writing experience in therapeutic areas of endocrinology, epilepsy, and hematology/oncology—specifically, gastroenteropancreatic neuroendocrine tumors and carcinoid syndrome, chronic lymphocytic leukemia, and breast cancer. Other therapeutic areas of experience include psoriasis, bipolar disorder, traumatic brain injury, sleep disorders, women’s health, and pharmacokinetic drug interactions.

Sarah received a Bachelor of Arts in Anthropology from the University of Tennessee. She went on to study pharmacy and received her PharmD degree from the University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy and completed a postdoctoral industry fellowship in medical communications with PharmaWrite/MedVal. Sarah currently holds pharmacy licenses in the states of New Jersey and New York. She is also a member of AMWA and ISMP.

Sandra M. Aguero, PharmD, BCPS
Medical Writer

Prior to joining MedVal/PharmaWrite, Dr. Sandra Aguero worked as a Clinical Pharmacist for over 10 years in the areas of general medicine and critical care. Early in her career, she was Clinical Assistant Professor at the Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy at Rutgers University, in Piscataway, NJ, with a clinical practice at Hoboken University Medical Center, working with the family practice team. She then went on to be a clinical pharmacist in the Medical Intensive Care Unit at Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia, PA, where she most recently held a position as Clinical Manager, overseeing the clinical services and pharmacy residency program at Einstein.

In her clinical practice, Sandra was instrumental in ensuring optimal medication regimens were being prescribed for patients of varying acuities. This involved being knowledgeable on common treatments, conducting thorough drug information and literature reviews, and communicating recommendations to medical providers. She was also a mentor and preceptor to pharmacy students and pharmacy residents. As a clinical pharmacist, Sandra provided education and ensured optimal treatment for patients with diabetes, acid-base disorders, adequate sedation, and pulmonary, neurologic, and infectious diseases, as well as autoimmune conditions. As a manager, Sandra facilitated committee work to make formulary decisions, which entailed reviewing medications for their efficacy, safety, cost, and clinical impact on patients and prescribing.

Sandra received her PharmD from the Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy at Rutgers University in 2007 and completed a PGY1 pharmacy residency at Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia the following year. She obtained her board certification in pharmacotherapy in 2008. Additionally, she earned the title of “Teacher of the Year” in 2011, awarded by the family practice medical residency at Hoboken University Medical Center. She has been a member of the American College of Clinical Pharmacy (ACCP) and the American Society of Health-System Pharmacists (ASHP), where various posters of her research have been presented. Throughout her career, she has prepared educational activities, both written and didactic, for presentation at professional meetings, continuing education programs, and conferences.

Jonathan Mitchell, PharmD, RPh
Associate Medical Writer

Dr. Jonathan Mitchell is Associate Medical Writer at MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC and PharmaWrite Medical Communications, LLC, where his duties include work on scientific abstracts, posters, and manuscripts, educational slide decks, publications planning, key opinion leader searches, advisory boards, and executive summaries.

Jonathan received his PharmD from the University of Findlay College of Pharmacy in Findlay, OH, where he performed research in biology and medicinal chemistry. Following this, he completed a 1-year postdoctoral medical communications fellowship with MedVal/PharmaWrite and served as Adjunct Clinical Instructor at the University of the Sciences College of Pharmacy in Philadelphia, PA. During his time as an instructor, he led journal club discussions and guided students during scientific literature searches.

Jonathan joined MedVal/PharmaWrite as a medical writer in 2020 and has experience with projects in hematology/oncology, neurology, renal disease, pain management, and men’s health.

Christopher Rosero, PharmD
Postdoctoral Fellow, MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC/
PharmaWrite Medical Communications, LLC

As the 2020-2021 Medical Communications Postdoctoral Fellow at MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC, and PharmaWrite Medical Communications, LLC, Dr. Chris Rosero’s responsibilities include medical writing, publication planning, competitive surveillance, gap analyses, slide deck development, abstract/poster creation, and social media communications. Chris is also Adjunct Clinical Instructor at the University of the Sciences in Philadelphia.

Chris received his PharmD from Touro College of Pharmacy, Harlem, NY, where he served as Chair of the over-the-counter medication safety initiative for APhA, Treasurer for CPNP, and Secretary for IPHO. During his time in pharmacy school, Chris garnered industry experience in areas such as medical writing, medical affairs, and biopharmaceutical research. Chris chose to pursue a postdoctoral fellowship in medical writing communications to utilize his past medical writing/industrial experience in combination with his pharmacy background to ultimately prepare him for a career in the pharmaceutical industry.

THE ACADEMIC COMPONENT
